While organic revenue and acquisitions had the most significant impact on revenue in 2010, we also enjoyed a benefit from foreign currency translations, primarily in the first half of the year. The Australian dollar and the Canadian dollar were the primary contributors to the currency benefit, partially offset by the Euro and, to a lesser extent, the British pound. In contrast, currency translations reduced revenue by nearly $9.0 million in 2009.

Organic revenue growth improved each quarter in 2010.

International Revenue

Revenue from international operations increased as a percentage of total revenue in 2010 and 2009. Our non-U.S. revenue increased to 28.3% of consolidated revenue in 2010, compared with 27.0% in 2009 and 24.2% in 2008. Several of our recent acquisitions have operations outside the United States. The majority of our international revenue is from Europe, Australia, and Canada. Acquisitions contributed $17.0 million to international revenue in 2010 and $23.4 million in 2009.
