

the condenser. Next, add a drop of methylene blue stain to the edge of the cover slip and draw it under as shown in figure below

In the laboratory questions section, draw a picture of what cheek cells look like under the microscope. Be sure to include the magnification of your cells.