

CHAPTER 3

The Program Heading and the Declaration Part

Every program consists of a heading and a block. The block contains a declaration part, in which all objects local to the program are defined, and a statement part, which specifies the actions to be executed upon these objects.

Figure 3.a Syntax diagram for Program

Figure 3.b Syntax diagram for Block