

2.c.1	Zoonoses including: knowledge in interpreting and analysing zoonoses data (food-borne outbreak, prevalence of zoonotic agents, animal diseases, animal population) and European legislation
2.d.1	Antimicrobial resistance, including: knowledge in interpreting and analysing antimicrobial resistance data and European legislation
2.e.1	Veterinary Medicinal Products: knowledge in interpreting and analysing Veterinary Medicinal Products data and European legislation
2.f.1	Molecular typing and whole genome sequencing: knowledge in interpreting and analysing Molecular typing and whole genome sequencing data
2.g.1	Consumption surveys: knowledge in interpreting and analysing consumption and exposure data
2.h.1	Plant and animal health including: knowledge in interpreting and analysing Plant and animal health data and European legislation
2.i.1	Controlled terminology, ontologies and scientific business glossaries

A more comprehensive description of the skills required in each area is provided in Annex 4.

Senior profiles:

- Scientific senior profiles have at least 3 years of professional experience in relevant projects and a degree in the specific scientific activity requested or PhD related to that scientific branch.
- Technical senior profiles have at least 3 years of professional experience in relevant projects for the specific tools and/or data management skills requested.

Junior profiles:

- Scientific senior profiles have at least 1 years of professional experience and a degree in the specific scientific activity requested.
- Technical junior profiles have at least 1 years of professional experience in relevant projects for the specific tools and/or data management skills requested.

Requirement c):

The account manager and the project manager must have an excellent level of spoken and written standard UK English. For non-English mother tongues, the knowledge of English shall be proven by: (i) at least 5 year experience in international projects where English is the working language; or (ii) at least 5 year of work/study in an English speaking environment; or (iii) certificate of English proving at least a C1 level.

All other profiles must be able to meet the minimum English language requirements detailed below: For non-English mother tongues, the knowledge of English shall be proven by: (i) at least 3 year experience in international projects where English is the working