PRA Government Services is an industry-leading provider of revenue-enhancement assistance to government clients across the United States.

PRA Government Services (PRA-GS) helps government clients manage revenue processes that enable them to provide services to their constituents. Effective revenue management contributes more operating resources to governments, helping to avoid raising taxes. PRA-GS, which has more than 760 distinct client relationships, can manage all of the client's revenue processes through its complete tax management program, or it can provide individual services on an ad hoc basis. Services include tax compliance and auditing, identification and correction of tax misallocations, discovery and collection of taxes due, economic development consulting, information services, and administration of permits and licenses. PRA-GS also helps clients avoid indirect legacy costs, such as outdated software, systems and tax administrative processes associated with hiring staff, to accomplish additional revenue recovery and ancillary tasks. PRA-GS has processed more than $800 million in tax revenue annually, recovered more than $1 billion in new revenue during the past 30 years, and helped public sector clients avoid the loss of billions of dollars. PRA-GS gives government clients an inexpensive way to attain best-in-class revenue administration without incurring the upfront costs and the back-end legacy liabilities.
